Problems with today's MANUAL CRUSHERS

A survey of Nursing Directors reveals:

- 96% report poor crushing performance
- 88% said the process is too long or involves too many steps
- 82% complained of physical strain

Over two-thirds raised concerns of inaccurate dosing.

Powder Not Problems!

Today's Manual Product
No wonder patients spit-out or tubes clog!

Create Powder, Not Problems

Whether clogging of patient feeding tubes or patient's spitting out their medication, fineness of powder impacts clinical efficacy.

Across various combinations of the hardest pills to crush (Calcium's, Multi-Vitamins, Senakot laxatives), First Crush™ consistently produced more fine powder than the competition for a set period of time and effort.
